

Kamau Clark

Creative | Community Organizer

Detroit born and raised, Kamau is a product of blackness and community--two pillars that remain integral to his work. Through digital storytelling and base-building, Kamau activates residents, helping them become strong movement leaders for their communities.

Contact

Phone

313-932-8802

Email

kamau.clark98@gmail.com

Address

4666 Audubon Rd, Detroit, MI 48224

Education

2020

Bachelor of Arts | Urban Studies
Wayne State University

2016

Graduated Class
University of Detroit Jesuit HS

Expertise

- Google Drive / Microsoft Office
- Graphic Design/ Illustration
- Everayaction/ miniVAN
- Sound Design/ Audio Engineering
- Content Creation/ Social Media
- Deep Canvassing/ Group Facilitation
- Race Class Narrative / Restorative Practices

Language

English

Experience

2019 - Present

Altnubian LLC | Detroit | altnubian.com

Founder/ Editor

- Chronicled regional narrative of Arts & Cultural organizing & community placemaking projects in the city of Detroit via altnubian.com
- Featured local creators via feature article, interview, podcast, and review
- Led a small team of freelance writers and contributors to a community-juried website
- Web & graphic design of all branding for the platform.

2020 - Present

We The People MI | 2701 Bagley St, Detroit MI, 48216

Detroit Organizer

- Co-planned, co-facilitated a 5 week Organizing, Leadership, and Action community virtual workshop in spring of 2021
- Participated in Healing Between the Lines at the Wayne State University School of Medicine, as a Justice Circle facilitator, training Med students in organizing, public policy, and advocacy.
- [c4] Co-led the first state-wide c4 endorsement process for the 2022 Michigan Midterm elections.
- Recruited an engaged base of Detroit residents, conducting leadership development in organizing, advocacy, and action across 3 city council districts of Detroit
- Conducted a summer Artists Engagement Series of generative discussions with multidisciplinary artists and cultural organizers across the state of Michigan.

2015 - 2017

Glidepath Strategies | 2200 Hunt St, Detroit, MI 48214

Program Manager

- Co-facilitated retreats and virtual lunches via Zoom, utilizing remote technology.
- Designed graphics and promotional materials for "Share the Mic Now Detroit"-- a discussion webinar series aimed at amplifying the voices of black women in Metro-Detroit.
- Supported the Executive and Steering Committee internal work of Detroit Residents First Fund.
- Provided work-plan consulting, research, and program management for clients working in social justice, community development, and DEI for clients such as: Detroit Justice Center, Movement Law Lab, Latina Network of Western Michigan, and Hope Starts Here

Reference

Rosario Molina

Associate Data Analyst, Color of Change

Phone: 810-814-0619

Email: rosario.molina@colorofchange.org

Khalilah Burt Gaston

Founder, Glidepath Strategies

Phone: 313-799-7737

Email: kgb@glidepathstrategies.co